Venues Ōtautahi Food Ethos

Ōtautahi, initially a food gathering place on the banks of the Ōtākaro where the Ngāi Tahu and Ngāi Tūāhuriri food story was woven into Ōtautahi's fabric. Ngāi Tahu was familiar not only with the coastline surrounding Ōtautahi but also with the inland plains, mountains, and lakes. This relationship with the natural world, gathering food, and working with food is essential to how we cook and prepare our food today.

Kaitiakitanga means the land is a resource to be respected. Growers, producers, farmers, and chefs must care for the land and the environment using thoughtful and sustainable methods and being sure to always act with future generations in mind.

Our produce comes from Canterbury and represents the biodiversity of the region. Our geological position provides excellent soil, water, and the suitable climate creates ideal growing and farming conditions. We are so close to the source of some of the world's best produce and producers.

This food represents responsibility, sustainability, geography, and culture. If we know where our food comes from, it helps us understand why it feels good to eat it.

Our New Zealand producers, growers, farmers, and their products contribute significantly to the evolution of our food culture. We are committed to purchasing from within the region. Buying from the community that supports the venues allows our guests to share and experience the region's food and beverage and help to support local suppliers, farmers, and producers.

These dishes show respect to the incredible ingredients of Canterbury and its food community of special people who farm, harvest, produce and serve.

Authentic dishes are made with care and respect for the region and its diverse history.

Buffet Menu

Shaped by the region, our menus are crafted to showcase our venues, region, and food. Celebrating true Canterbury hospitality at its heart, these menus are all about crafting a dining experience representing the best the city has to offer. The buffet packages are designed for a relaxed, informal style of lunch or dinner service. This package allows guests to network or to be taken back to conference spaces or tables. These menus can be served to stations in the venues or split around side tables.
